Our Debt To Boys Has Not Shrank a Bit, Says Wills

D. C. Wills.

"THE end of the war does not mean the end of war financing. It is just as much our duty to prepare now for the Fifth Loan—and to put it over in spring—as it was our duty to float the four loans already subscribed. Our debt to the boys has not shrunk a mite."

So says D. C. Wills, chairman of the Central Liberty Loan Committee of the Fourth Federal Reserve District. Wills has been the man behind the loans and upon his shoulders will rest the responsibility for the success of the Fifth Loan next April.

The details of this loan have not yet been decided upon by the Treasury Department, but it is assured that a Fifth Loan is going to be necessary.

"I feel confident that the details are only incidental," said Wills in a recent interview in Celina. "As far as the attitude of the persons in the Fourth District is concerned, the performance of the Cleveland District in the past four loans has convinced me that they only need to know that they have a duty ahead of them. Apprised of this they will buckle down to the task of preparation and when the trial comes in the spring the Cleveland District will be playing second fiddle to no district in the country."

In substantiation of his statement that the end of the war did not mean the end of war financing Wills pointed to the fact that a number of men would have to be kept in Europe for an indefinite period; the bills have to be paid for the transportation home of those coming home; the gigantic operations, military as well as industrial, set afoot by this war cannot at once be stopped.

No Fake, Says Jake

Says the wisecrack Jacobus Pond, who, of dividends always was fond: "No stock-jobbing fellow. Can pluck me for mellow—I'm keeping my Liberty Bond."

A RAW, SORE THROAT

Eases Quickly When You Apply a Little Musterole.

And Musterole won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Just spread it on with your fingers. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is fine for quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds on the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). Nothing like Musterole for croupy children. Keep it handy for instant use. 30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

If It's Worth $100 to The Other Fellow It's Worth as Much to You

If the other fellow is exceptionally anxious to get something that you have it is a pretty fair sign that what you have is worth something to the other fellow.

The government asks you to bear this in mind when some stock-jockey or bond scalper offers you securities in trade for your Liberty Bonds. Despite the vigilance of the government agents and repeated warnings sent out broadcast, peddlers of worthless securities—principally stocks in oil companies—have bilked numerous uninformed Liberty Bond holders out of their holdings.

United States bonds bearing 4 per cent interest and having a par value of $100 sold in the open market in 1898 at $130. In 1901 they sold at $139.

The government asks you to keep those figures in mind, too, when the scalper visits you. Then it asks you to report the scalper to some officer of the government and see that he is prosecuted.

Fourth Loan Proceeds Spent, Says McAdoo

"The proceeds from the Fourth Liberty Loan in excess of the amount of Treasury Certificates issued in anticipation of that loan have been exhausted; and the remaining installment payments to be made on subscriptions to the Fourth Liberty Loan will but little more than cover the Treasury Certificates of indebtedness issued in anticipation of that loan and as yet unpaid."

That is the statement of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo made recently in a letter to banks in which it was definitely announced that there would be a Fifth Liberty Loan in April.

When the armistice was signed, the letter points out, this country was making expenditures at the rate of $2,000,000,000 a month.

It goes on to state that plans must be laid now for another great popular loan in the spring.

Liberty Loan Funds to Rehabilitate Wounded and Disabled Soldiers

The above illustration shows in dramatic form one of the things that Secretary McAdoo meant when he said recently, apropos of the need of more Liberty Loans, "Peace must be financed as well as war."

It is not only problems of food and transportation and supplies. It is also the very vital matter of rehabilitating the soldiers who have given just a trifle less than their lives.

Surgery has advanced miraculously during this war. It has restored men to fighting form who would have died in any previous war. Now the U. S. Government is going to use it to restore them to living and working trim. The supplying of artificial limbs and mechanical appliances, and then vocational training to fit the soldier into industry which will enable him to earn a decent living and give society the benefit of his ability, are all important factors.

The picture above is that of a soldier for whom double arm amputation did not, after all, mean the end of life.

This is one of the undertakings which the people of the United States will finance through holding their bonds of the Fourth issue and buying those of the next.

Industrial and financial situations are affected by the change of the country from a war to a peace basis are holding an important place in the public mind. The outlook is optimistic, and among the factors of optimism is the wide distribution of Liberty Bonds. It is a most hopeful thing for the United States that the best investment in the world, the Liberty Bonds, are distributed among so large a part—about 30 per cent—of its population.

Ships Will Bear Names of Counties

Cleveland, O.—Six U. S. ships will carry names of counties of the Fourth Federal District within a short time. The counties won this honor by being the first over the line in the Fourth Liberty Loan drive. They are Henry, Ashland, Vinton, and Franklin counties, Ohio; McCreary county, Kentucky; and Hancock county, West Virginia. Mrs. Frank K. Martin of Columbus, Miss Dorothy Weir of Weirton, W. Va., and Miss Myrtle Campbell of Pine Knot, Ky., have been chosen by three of the committees to act as sponsors.
